OUR MEMBERS

United through indigenous knowledge and strength.

Seattle Urban Native Nonprofits collaborative convenes and strengthens Native-led organizations throughout King County to build collective power through dialog, education, action, and advocacy. To increase the well-being of our urban Native family, we call upon Indigenous strength, resilience, and wisdom to address systemic inequities and galvanize community-centered solutions.

Chief Seattle Club

Chief Seattle Club provides a sacred space to nurture, affirm, and renew the spirit of urban Native people. At our Day Center in the Pioneer Square district of downtown Seattle, we provide food, primary health care, housing assistance, an urban Indian legal clinic, and a Native art job training program, as well as frequent outings for members to cultural and community-building events.

Indigenous Showcase

Indigenous Showcase was founded in 2007 in partnership with Tracy Rector and Northwest Film Forum to present an ongoing series showcasing emerging talents in Indigenous communities. This exciting program exemplifies how Native American and indigenous filmmakers are at the forefront of the industry, successfully establishing a dialogue and creating images that challenge and change long established cultural attitudes towards Indigenous culture.

Na'ah Illahee Fund

Na'ah Illahee Fund is an Indigenous women-led organization dedicated to the ongoing regeneration of Indigenous communities. Through grantmaking, capacity-building and community-based intergenerational programming, we seek transformative change by supporting culturally grounded leadership and organizing. Our scope of impact includes urban, rural, island, and reservation-based Indigenous communities throughout the Pacific Northwest region and beyond.

National Urban Indian Family Coalition

The National Urban Indian Family Coalition elevates a national voice and sustains Indigenous values and culture through a strong network of urban Indian organizations. NUIFC advocates for American Indian families living in urban areas by creating partnerships with tribes, as well as other American Indian organizations, and by conducting research to better understand the barriers, issues, and opportunities facing urban American Indian families.

Native American Women's Dialog On Infant Mortality

The Native American Women's Dialog on Infant Mortality (NAWDIM) is a Native-led collective who advocate, educate and support American Indian, Alaska Native and First Nations infants, moms and families. We work primarily in the Puget Sound region. We meet monthly with allied organizations and agencies, with the vision that social equity and respect for tribal sovereignty are key to improving infant survival rates in our communities. OUR MEMBERS

Native Action Network

Native Action Network (NAN) is a nonprofit organized to promote Native women’s full representation, participation, and leadership in local, state, tribal, and national affairs. NAN achieves this by hosting intergenerational leadership forums, youth academies, 10-month Legacy of Leadership cohorts, leadership luncheons, nonprofit capacity building workshops, as well as other community development and civic participation activities. Northwest Justice Projects Native American Unit

Northwest Justice Project Native American Unit (NJPNAU) provides legal advocacy for American Indian and Alaska Native individuals while tailoring services to be responsive to Native communities. Northwest Justice Project (NJP) is Washington’s largest publicly funded legal aid program. NJP works to secure justice through high-quality legal advocacy that promotes the long-term well-being of low-income individuals, families, and communities. Potlatch Fund

The Potlatch Fund is a Native-led non-profit that provides grants and leadership development to Tribal Nations in Washington, Oregon, Idaho and Montana. Our mission is to build on the Native tradition of giving in two ways: Increasing philanthropy for and among Tribal communities, and empowering community leaders with the tools they need to succeed. www.potlatchfund.org

Red Eagle Soaring

Red Eagle Soaring serves Native American youth ages 10-19 with free programming integrating contemporary theatre and traditional Native performing arts. RES engages Native youth and their families in critical discussions about the issue affecting their lives and provides a cultural peer group in which to build confidence, identity, and community. United Nations Of All Tribes Foundation

The United Nations Of All Tribes Foundation provides educational, cultural and social services that reconnect Indigenous people in the Puget Sound region to their heritage by strengthening their sense of belonging and significance as Native people. Our offices are located inside the Daybreak Star Indian Cultural Center, which is in Discovery Park in the Magnolia neighborhood of Seattle. www.unitedindians.org

Urban Native Education Alliance

Urban Native Education Alliance offers culturally responsive and relevant support to Native youth and families through social, cultural, and educational support services. Our programs are all youth centered, youth driven and designed for promoting health, wellness and academic, socio-cultural success for youth, families and community.
